

The SURVIVOR

Mitzvah Project

Share your bounty and spread your joy

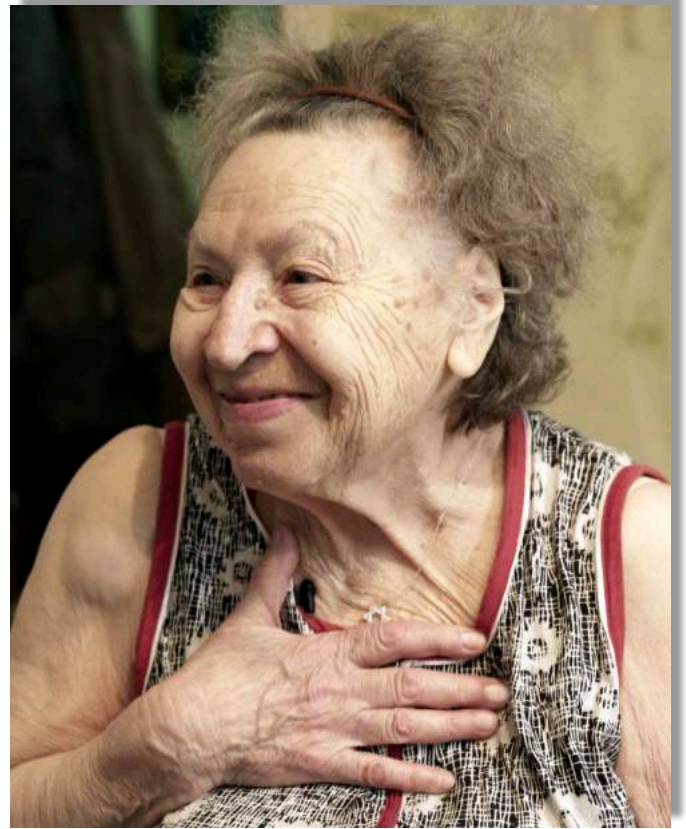

The autumn is a time of harvest. But for the elderly Holocaust Survivors of Eastern Europe, no matter how fruitful the harvest around them, they are forced to exist on very little.

"There is no money for food. At times there is no money even for bread.

We are children of war. We didn't have childhood or youth, and now no serenity of old age. We are grateful to you for paying attention to us."

Many cupboards are bare

The long winter months are very difficult. Food and fuel are scarce. Many survivors are too frail to grow and harvest their own food, let alone chop firewood. Heating systems in cities are often broken, in need of repair. Only your compassion can help.

Maya Ilyinichna, born 1928 in Rybnitsa, Moldova

"Without your support it would not have been possible to replace the broken heating equipment. Now our apartment is warm and cozy, and that all happened because of you."

Maria Peisovna, born 1925, Balti, Moldova

Also, as survivors age, there is an ever-increasing need for medical care and home care, and these are in short supply. Survivors across Belarus, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Moldova, Russia, Transnistria and Ukraine are still struggling.

"I am often sick, and in need of care and medical help."

This Autumn, please remember our survivors

Join us in helping to supply the food, heat, medicine and home-care these individuals so desperately need, and the loving compassion that gives them hope.

Your help is appreciated

"We Holocaust survivors are grateful to you and your friends for your kindness and attention to us. We have suffered a lot in our lives, witnessed the deaths of our parents, friends and neighbors.

We went through starvation during the war, waiting for possible death from fascists. All of these sufferings affected our health.

Very few people sympathize with us.

You are among those few.

We greatly appreciate everything you do for us and your selfless help."

Iosif Davidovich, born 1939, Village Kruti, Ukraine

With your support, we can continue providing compassionate care where it is needed the most.

*Sara Samuilovna, born 1923 in Kalarash, Moldova - with Founder Zane Buzby, April 2018, during The Survivor
Mitzvah Project's Emergency Aid Expedition*

"I am thankful to everybody who helps us to survive, to those who care about us and remember us, and who support us financially and emotionally.

Thank you."
